Description

Some of my applications have pages on third-party sites. To place them on project overview pages I added custom fields. For example, at the moment I have:

- Softjourn - contains URL to Softjourn project page
- SourceForge - contains URL to SourceForge project page
- Redmine - contains URL to Redmine plugin page
- DokuWiki - contains URL to DokuWiki plugin page

But this method has advantages:

- All these custom fields are shown for all projects
- URLs are not shown as links

It would be great to have a plugin which would allow adding "Links":

- Name - for name users need to enter just link name (e.g. "Redmine plugin page").
- URL - the URL itself which gets rendered as a link on "Overview" page

Similar can be done by adding * <name>: <url> to the end of description... There will be a space between other fields and such description items but...
