Thank you for your report! That's not a bug in the sidebar plugin but rather something is wrong in installation... I'm so sure because I used to install it many times.

Please answer the following questions:

- What Redmine version are you using?
- Does plugin include <plugin-directory>/config/locales/en.yml?

#2 - 11 May 2011 17:45 - Stefanos Kariotidis

My Redmine version is: Redmine 1.1.2.stable.5472.
I checked in the plugin's directory for the en.yml and it is there.
Should i try to reinstall the plugin then?

Yes, reinstall can help...

I had similar issues. For me this issue was fixed by adding empty app/views directory to the plugin... However the sidebar plugin does has such directory (please check though)...

Confirming! The problem exists - YML translation files are missing label_sidebar... Perhaps it existed in core Redmine in previous version and has been removed recently.

Thank you for reporting!
