Description

most themes when looking at the issues will have a red highlite over the issues that are urgent. can we have something of the sort, or else i will have to make some css changes to try to match this feature

I guess, you mean overdue CSS class...

#3 - 27 May 2014 23:31 - Andriy Lesyuk

Or priority-highest...

- Due date set to 28 May 2014

- Status changed from Incomplete to Closed

- % Done changed from 0 to 100

Well, I guess this was the issue with different priority numbers on different installations. Recently Redmine improved this by adding named CSS classes for priorities (e.g., priority-highest). So, I updated the code to use these new CSS classes!
