Description In large programs a given project may cross over more than one program. For users to easily see projects that relate to their program it would be an excellent feature to allow projects to appear in more than one section. Example: Project = Accounting Mobile App Sections / Programs: <ul style="list-style-type: none">Accounting<ul style="list-style-type: none">Accounting Mobile AppMobile Development<ul style="list-style-type: none">Accounting Mobile App Looking at the current sections implementation, I expect that this change could be implemented by creating a projects_sections table to provide the many sections per project implementation. This would also need an upgraded administrative UI to support these changes. This approach would also help with other features that I see in train. For example feature #2214. This feature could also be implemented in the projects_sections table using a ordered by column. (just a thought). Would be interested in contributing this this development if appropriate.

It slightly goes beyond the project scope, I'm afraid...

Anyway, leaving the issue open for future.
