Description For some media it may be needed to skip all thumbnails. In this case, the following command line option can be used: $ cdindex --skip-all-thumbs "Media name" In other cases it may be needed to skip thumbnails only for some entries (e.g., I had situations, when ffmpeg's libswscale crashed on a video file). In this case, the following option can be used (multiple times, if needed): $ cdindex --skip-thumb Failing.avi "Media name"
